Carver High School

Hello Readers. The last few days in our school term are quickly drawing to a close. This year has, indeed, skipped by swiftly.

The "Little Theater" journeyed to Farmville on Thursday morning to present their three-act comedy, "Good Gracious, Grandma," at R. R. Moton High School as their annual exchange program. Their Chorus is to be here on May 31. Such exchange programs are looked forward to eagerly by our students.

The winners in the Girls' Softball Tournament are the 10th grade team. They won over the 8th grade team in the finals by a score of 10 - 5. They will be awarded T-shirts with "Carver" inscribed on them. Outstanding players from the 10th grade were Clarabelle Minnifield, first base; and can she play! Frances Megginson, catcher, who hardly missed a ball; Helen Lee, second base; and Jacqueline Lawing, as ace pitcher. Good players in the tournament from other classes were: Bernice Lewis, Louvenia Johnson, Ella Chambers, Elsie Scruggs, Rachel Stratton, Lelia Moore, Hazel Booker, and Rebecca Wheeler.

The boys' baseball team has lost all of its home games. They played their first game away from home on Tuesday at Foster High in Blackstone.

The Senior Exams have place on Friday morning from 9 A. M. to 12:00. This year a standardized test is being administered. We hope for them success.

May 28, 29, regular hael exams are being given. Woe unto us. Here one consolation—this is the last!

Until next week, our thought: "The sufficiency of my merit is to know that my merit is not sufficient."

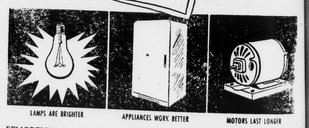
Adequate Wiring



SAVES TODAY

BUILDING OR REMODELING — you can't make a better investment—and for so little money—than to include adequate, planned wiring. It costs only a fraction more than inadequate wiring—but it adds immeasurably to the convenience, the comfort, the efficiency and resale value of your home!

Better wiring improves home lighting and the service you get from your electrical appliances. Adequate wiring helps prevent voltage drops that make motors run slower and hotter. (In your electric refrigerator, for instance.) Overloaded circuits mean electrical losses—that you pay for!

SAVES TOMORROW

When you insist upon "Better wiring for better living," you banish any future need for expensive wiring additions or alterations. Adequate wiring to begin with is cheaper. And—it adds to your home's resale value, because adequate wiring plans for tomorrow's needs, too!

Let your Electrical Contractor advise you about an adequate electric service entrance, about enough circuits to distribute the load properly, about convenience outlets and switches. Electric service is the lifestream of your home . . . adequate wiring its arteries!

How does your mail box rate?

Mail boxes are common sights along all rural routes. Whether these boxes add to or detract from the appearance of our places is strictly up to each of us. A rusty box, a post setting askew, a crooked post, not to clash with a neatly painted house, a well-kept grassy lawn, and a pretty flower bed. On the other hand, a neat, attractive box sets a high standard for the entire place.

The box should also be convenient. The mailman visits it about two times a year, and he stops at hundreds of other boxes . . .

The box should be placed so that he can drive right up to it. It should be the proper height. The door should work smoothly. Also, each soldier should have names on box or post. Names on boxes help to identify your place, and is helpful to others in locating your home.

This is project in which every member of the family can help, especially the 4-H Club members.

Mrs. Frank Carr, county chairman, and Mrs. D. E. Caldwell, Jr., chairman of home and community beautification projects, are planning to send a letter to each box holder, giving specifications and helpful information on marking improvements on your mail box. So please watch for it.

Let's show our appreciation for our rural carriers by helping them to serve us better.

National Farm Safety Week Scheduled for July 22-28

If farm residents adopt safe practices throughout 1951, accidents may not kill an average of 47 farm people every day as they are now doing.

This will mean an important saving of America's manpower and production, especially vital now in view of the national emergency.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council, recently urged this method of strengthening America's defense measures in announcing that the eighth annual National Farm Safety Week will be observed July 22-28.

"The purpose of this week is to encourage all farm people to adopt safe practices on the farm and in all phases of farm life the year around," Mr. Dearborn said.

The American Farm Bureau Federation, the Farmer's Union, the National Grange, the Farm Equipment Institute and many other organizations interested in farm life and agriculture have joined with the council and the U.S. department of agriculture in promoting the observance of National Farm Safety Week.
